TRUSTEE KIMLIN AND FAMILY RETURN FROM TRIP

Thoroughly Impressed With Advantages of City Parks by Those Seen on Trip

MODESTO PARK IS CITED

Twenty Dollars a Night for Two Rooms Was Prevailing Hotel Price

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Kimlin had a pleasant auto tour and a few mild adventures during their week-end trip to Lodi and return. They went by the Ridge route, taking in Tulare, Hanford and Modesto, where Mr. Kimlin had business, and then went to Lodi, where Mr. Kimlin's mother and sister live.

They found hot weather all the way and Mr. Kimlin was impressed as never before with the advantages to the traveling public of a city park. Whenever they entered a city to rest it was the first thing they looked for and how grateful they were when they found it only travelers touring the country as they were could know.

Said Mr. Kimlin: "Some of these towns, notably Modesto, have beautiful little parks right in the center of the city, and I realized anew what a crying need it is in Glendale, and how ashamed we ought to feel of the lack of a park. There was as much difference in the towns as in the individuals we met. Some were brisk and very much alive, like Hanford and Modesto, others were lifeless with little evidence of push and progress."

At Lodi they decided to go west and return by the coast route. Leaving there Sunday morning, they drove to Livermore, Tracy and San Jose, a distance of 380 miles, in one day. On all the roads there was a tremendous amount of travel. At 6 o'clock they began to seek a place where they could get lodging for the night. Every town they passed through was full to overflowing and not until they reached the little town of Las Animas, at 11 p. m., did they find accommodations. At some of the places where they inquired, the charge was $20 a night for two rooms.

Glendale looked very beautiful when they reached it, and Mr. Kimlin says he appreciated as he has not always appreciated in the past, what a lovely little city it is in comparison with many of the places visited on this trip, but that does not lessen his desire for a park in Glendale. He thinks it is one of the things the Chamber of Commerce should take up in earnest to see if a way cannot be found to provide us with a breathing spot where there are trees and a fountain for the refreshment of the weary, even though it be small.

"JUST CALIFORNIA" READ BY AUTHOR ON FOURTH

A delightful Fourth was spent in Summit by Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Rowley and family, of 334 West Vine street, when forty or more present and former residents of Tujunga and Summit gathered to observe the day.

Included in the program that had been arranged were Milton Bryan, United States District Attorney, who is a new settler in Tujunga, John S. McGroarty, of Mission Play fame, and County Supervisor Wright. Mr. McGroarty spoke on the origin of Independence Day and gave a reading of his poem, "Just California."

Mr. Rowley states that the exercises were the most effective he has ever been privileged to attend on the Fourth of July.

CITIZENS' BUILDING MAKING PROGRESS

Because plans for the Citizens' Building, which is to be constructed on Brand Boulevard between Broadway and Harvard streets, are not yet completed the meeting last night of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, at which the plans were to have been submitted for inspection, was adjourned to convene next Monday.

The greater part of the stock in the Citizens' Building is reported to have been sold and efforts will be made to get the building under way at the earliest possible date after the acceptance of plans and the accepting of bids.

BATTLE BETWEEN MOTHER AND DAUGHTER IN TRIAL

Prefers Death to Passing Balance of Life in Hospital for Insane—Depicts Kaber as Degenerate of Vilest Type—Sought Fortune Tellers for Help

(By International News Service)

COURT HOUSE, CLEVELAND, O., July 6. — Who was the "friend," the "brains" that engineered the plot to murder Daniel Kaber, wealthy publisher?

Not his widow, Mrs. Catherine Eva Kaber, the wan, dark woman who sits in the courtroom here with her eyes closed and as emotionless as a statue, according to the defense, but a 69-year-old woman, confined in the detention house, a pathetic, wrinkled old creature, who invokes curses on Mrs. Kaber, her own daughter.

A battle between mother and daughter, each willing to send the other to the electric chair by her testimony.

"She dragged me into this. She made me wash and slave for her so she could tell Dan Kaber others did it and collect pin money from him," said the mother.

"Mrs. Kaber, her brain diseased, weak and helpless, was the victim of her mother's machinations," the defense will claim, it was learned today.

"Paretic brain" will be the unusual line of defense put forth to save the so-called "murder queen."

Between the death chair and the alternative of spending the rest of her life in the hospital for the insane, she chose the former.

"I will take a chance with death," she is said to have informed her attorneys, tabooing a move contemplated by them to have her declared insane.

Alienists will testify that she is suffering from a form of paresis which renders her irresponsible at times. This brain disease, it will be claimed, is the result of the degenerate acts of Kaber, the murdered man.

Baring her soul and all the sordid details of her life on the witness stand, the accused woman will paint Kaber, who was one of Cleveland's most prominent businessmen, as a degenerate of the vilest type. She will claim that in mortal terror of her life by his threats, and distracted by the abuses practiced on her, she sought fortune tellers to use their "psychic powers" and Mrs. Erminie Colavito, the "poison queen," to use "black magic" not to kill Kaber, but to cure him of his "bad habits."

S. H. THOMSON SETS A NEW WORLD'S RECORD IN A. A. U.

Setting a new world record in the A. A. U. all-around track and field events, held yesterday at Pasadena, S. H. Thomson, representing the Los Angeles Athletic Club, piled up 7534 points out of a possible 10,000 and bettered the former record held by his brother, Fred Thomson, by 35 points. The other competitors in the all-around events finished in the following order: Shea, Pastime A. C.; Raab, L. A. A. C.; Gilfillen, Illinois A. C.

Running in the peak of form and coming back for revenge because of the defeat they suffered on the Fourth at the hands of local track men the New York A. C. romped off with the relay events in impressive style and hung up four new American records. It was not to be the Los Angeles Athletic Club's day for they were nosed out at the tape in several of the relays, by the New Yorkers, after having run stellar races.

Women Terrorized by "Wild Man"

By International News Service

OMAHA, July 6.—Residents of Wheeler county, Nebraska, are wrought up over the appearance of a "wild man" in that locality, according to J. M. Shreve, of Bartlett, county attorney. The man is described as being eight feet tall, red-haired and a measurement of his bare foot-print made by Sheriff E. R. Shaner indicated that his foot is 14 inches long and six inches wide. The "wild man" has terrorized women in the vicinity of Bartlett. Efforts to follow him with bloodhounds failed, the dogs refusing to take the scent.

Mr. Shreve said the man has harmed no one and that he runs madly when his presence is observed. A posse of 50 men participated last night in a futile search for the man.

"THE SERENADERS" A LA PHONOGRAPH RECORDS NEW WRINKLE

A new wrinkle along publicity lines has been put into effect by the Salmacia Bros., proprietors of the Glendale Music Co., that bids fair to become very popular. The idea is no more nor less than the ancient "Serenaders" brought down to date with the substitution of the modern phonograph for the merry minstrels. Under this arrangement it is possible to provide music of the highest type for lawn fetes, week end parties or the "unexpected guests" without the slightest difficulty and absolutely without cost. It merely entails a call on the Salmacia Bros. and presto! the music is delivered to your door. No obligation is assumed and a program of the highest quality is assured the auditors.

This innovation is in reality a sales stimulant, and is expected to bring returns in increased sales due to the publicity gained through this medium.

GLENDALE LODGE OF ELKS INITIATES LARGE CLASS

At the meeting of the Glendale Elks' Lodge, Tuesday evening, nineteen members drawn from various parts of the district were initiated and one member for a Kansas lodge by special request.

The rest of the session was devoted to plans for participation in affairs connected with the great convention in Los Angeles this week. It is expected that the Glendale Lodge will have 500 members in uniform in the marching parade Thursday, besides its band and the special features such as the elephant that is to carry the officers. The lodge will also be represented by a thousand dollar float in the floral parade. All these features will advertise Glendale and, appreciating that fact the city of Glendale has donated $500 to the organization and the Chamber of Commerce came through with $300. These contributions will only partially cover the expense, the balance being borne by the lodge.

ST. MARK'S GUILD TO HOLD MEETING

The Woman's Guild of St. Marks church will hold their meeting tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. Veach, 445 Oak street.

In Austria employers are bound by law to maintain as many workmen as they did before the war.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL A SUCCESS

Large Number of Pupils Are Enrolled — Little Folk Greatly Enjoy Work

The Daily Vacation Bible school, a doubtful experiment last year, held in only one church, is a wonderful success this year, with nearly 300 pupils of beginners, primary, and junior ages, enrolled. Carl C. Seitter recently arrived in Glendale to take charge of religious education work for the First Methodist church, is general overseer and there are many other consecrated workers.

At the First Presbyterian church the teachers are Misses Mabel Galey, Bessie Field, Jennie Horsch and Theodora Stadt, with Rev. Louis Tinning, assistant pastor, in charge. Their first day's enrollment was 135, which has been increased to 150, as they are caring for all the east side, and enrolling pupils of the junior, primary and beginner ages.

At the First Methodist church the teachers are Miss Marian Whiteman, Mrs. J. H. Payne and Mrs. H. L. Baker. The enrollment, of juniors only, is 21.

At the Baptist church, where only small children are taught, the teachers are Misses Kate Tarling, Helen Robinson and Laura Wilford Brown. The enrollment is 20.

At the Congregational church the enrollment is 26, with Misses Garnet Peters and Dorothy Howard as teachers.

Casa Verdugo Methodist has 12 enrolled, and the teachers are Mrs. Edwin Murphy and Miss Dorothy Peart.

At West Glendale Methodist church the enrollment is 25. Misses Anne Cookman and Louise Fambrough are the teachers.

The Central Avenue Methodist cares for 35, with Mrs. Robert Townsend and Mrs. Warren West as teachers.

The Tropico Presbyterian church has more than 30 enrolled. Mrs. S. H. Wilcox and Mrs. Grover Adams are the regular teachers, and Miss Marian Waller is assistant.

These schools are promoted by the various churches of Glendale and underwritten by them. Once a week each pupil will be given an envelope to take home to receive whatever free will offerings the parents may wish to send. But the giving is entirely optional with the parents. No account will be kept of the offerings so it will not be known to anyone who gave and who did not. All the remainder of the expense will be cheerfully borne by the churches interested and this is not inconsiderable, as the teachers are paid for their work.

MRS. J. H. BRALY IS CONVALESCENT

Mr. Braly Returns From Big Bear Because Altitude Is Too High for Him

Mrs. John Braly of North Brand boulevard is now up and around, following an illness which kept her confined to her bed for about four weeks. Her daughter, Mrs. Kirk, of Santa Barbara, has been with her, bu returned to her home yesterday. Mr. Braly, who went to his cabin in Big Bear valley a few days ago, expecting Mrs. Braly to follow him as soon as she was able to, has returned to Glendale, finding the altitude there too much for his heart to work properly. It is quite a disappointment to him. He says he has learned of a good many others who have been similarly affected this season.

Disabled Vet Can Sing in Three Voices

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The federal board for vocational training has discovered a man whose vocation, apparently, is to be a chorus all by himself. He is Joseph Kauffman, disabled veteran, and he is able, the board's announcement asserts, "to sing in three voices at one time," sounding like "three men side by side singing in unison." Only one similar case has ever been known in the United States.

Kauffman is described also as "an accomplished and versatile saxophone player," and has been placed in a Minneapolis school of music to prepare for a career in vaudeville.

NEW COUNCIL TAKES OATH ROBINSON IS FIRST MAYOR

Takes His Seat in Midst of Enthusiastic Applause From Members and Visitors—Makes Fitting Speech of Acceptance—Next Meeting Tomorrow Night

After several unsuccessful attempts to get a sufficient number of the former board of City Trustees together for an adjourned meeting July 1 to O. K. the pay roll, Stephenson, Robinson and Lapham assembled at 7:30 p. m. and passed the necessary motions that the requisitions be allowed and warrants drawn for he same.

Another adjourned meeting assembled at 7 p. m. July 5 at which all members were present though they came straggling in one after another not having remembered they were to gather at 7 p. m.

The first business transacted was the canvass of returns of the Pacific Avenue District annexation election by trustees Bartlett and Lapham, trustee Barlett offering the formal resolution which was adopted declaring the result to be 42 votes for and 13 against annexation.

A formal street cleaning resolution providing for street assessments to cover the removal of weeds, rubbish, etc., under city ordinance, was offered by Trustee Henry and adopted.

The Board then adjourned and gave up the ghost as an official body.

Meanwhile a small audience had been assembling to witness the inauguration of the City Council which marked the beginning of government in Glendale under its City Charter. W. R. Phelon was the only member present of the Board of Freeeholders who framed the charter except Clarence E. Kimlin, councilman-elect. It was an epochal moment in the history of Glendale, not because it marked any radical change in the form of government but because it marked the shuffling off of the trammels and limitations of municipal operations under laws governing cities of the sixth class, and freedom to develop an individuality that may mean much not to our own people alone but to the sisterhood of cities to which Glendale will stand either as an example or a warning.

The men who are to guide the destinies of the municipality seemed to feel the weight of their responsibilities and the cheerful looks with which they entered the council room soon after the hands of the clock had marked 8 sobered to gravity as they held up their right hands and took the solemn oath of office administered

CITY OFFICIALS WILL CONTINUE EVEN TENOR OF THEIR VARIOUS WAYS

Despite the fact that the new City Council has taken office and the charter form of government is in effect all city officials will continue to occupy the offices that they held under the old form of city government until such a time as the City Council sees fit to make a change, it was explained this morning by officials at the city hall.

The only change in jurisdiction over municipal affairs that was automatically effected with the adoption of the charter was the attachment of the duties of street superintendent to the office of the city engineer. City Manager Watson formerly served in this capacity.

At the next meeting of the City Council, on Thursday night, it is probable that suggested candidates for the office of city comptroller will be considered. A city comptroller is provided for, under the terms of the new charter, who will serve as general accountant of public funds and direct disbursements.

According to City Manager Watson the budget for the current fiscal year is near completion and will be in readiness to submit to the City Councitl at an early date for consideration.

COSTLY PICTURES DESTROYED BY FIRE

Jesse Joseph and wife suffered a severe fire loss yesterday afternoon. Their garage caught fire and pictures they had stored in it when they leased their home recently, was destroyed, the loss aggregating nearly $1000.

Limericks Used to Drive Sermon Home

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 5.—The laws of sanitation and the principles of modesty have been thrown to the proverbial four winds by modern woman in her pursuit of Lucifer, known to the Rev. John Roach Straton, of the Calvary Baptist church of this city, as the demon, style. In an excoriating sermon the Rev. Straton pronounced the knee-length skirt out of harmony with God and detrimental to health. He called it everything but an eyesore. The present style of women's dress is "in crashing discord" with "the higher things of life," said the minister, waxing forensic, adding that: "The only thing that saves us from the full effect of the dangers of the present styles is the humor of the situation." As an example of which, he quoted:

"Mary had a little skirt,
The latest style, no doubt;
But everytime she got inside
She was more'n half way out!"

ADVANCE DETAIL TO YOSEMITE SAYS IT IS TRIP WORTH TAKING

"You can tell the men for me that this is a trip worth taking," is the manner in which Cook Milliard Young, of the Glendale Company of National Guard, who was sent on an advance detail to Yosemite, describes the possibilities of the summer encampment of National Guard that is to be held there from July 10 to 25.

Cook Young expresses the attitude of sixty local guardsmen who are all straining at the leash and anxious to be off at the end of the week for Yosemite which holds in store a real vacation.

Although company baggage has already been shipped off to camp and full equipment issued to the men, according to Capt. Thomas D. Wason, there is still a possibility of accepting a few more men for enlistment. In order that every young man living in or near Glendale may be given an opportunity to enjoy the experience of a National Guard camp, Capt. Watson proposes to accept new enlistments up to as late a time as Friday night.

The text of the letter written by Cook Milliard Young which was received by Capt. Watson this morning is as follows:

El Portal, Calif.,
July 4, 1921.

Capt. Thomas D. Watson.

Dear Sir:

We arrived O. K. five hours ahead of time and have got cars unloaded. I am looking forward to the arrival of the outfit from Glendale.

The major said we were all to be returned to our own companies as soon as they arrive. You can tell the men for me that this is a trip worth taking. There is plenty of fun along with the work. We unloaded two cars in three hours.

There is fine swimming and hunting here. Everybody should certainly come. Say hello to the outfit for me.

Sincerely yours,
COOK MILLIARD YOUNG.

SUDDEN DEATH OF DONALD FRANKLIN

Donald Franklin, who was taken ill during an outing at Chatsworth Lake, the last of the week, and brought home from there Sunday night in a critical condition, died this morning at 11:30 o'clock at the Research Hospital, where he was taken immediately on arrival. Meningitis was the immediate cause of his passing, but he has been in frail health for several years. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Blake Franklin of 398 West Wilson treet and was a favorite with a large circle of friends and schoolmates. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of the community.

JEWEL MERCHANT OF NEW YORK ROBBED ON RAILROAD

Reports Loss of $175,000 Worth of Diamonds in Small Handbag

GAVE BAG TO PORTER

Was On Way to Pittsburg and Middle West on a Selling Trip

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 6.—The theft of $175,000 worth of diamonds on a Pennsylvania railroad train between this city and Trenton, N. J., was reported to the police today by Jos. Haskell, a jewel merchant of 65 Maiden Lane.

Haskell was on his way to Pittsburg, the first stop in a selling trip through the middle west. The diamonds were loose and were carried in a small handbag.

He said that after boarding a train at the Pennsylvania station he handed his suit case and the handbag to a porter to put under his seat while he stood on the platform smoking. He went to the smoking car when the train started. Later he returned to his seat, reached under the seat, and found the bag gone.

Death of Mrs. Margaret Overton

Mrs. Margaret Overton of 415 Fernando Court, who has been in frail health for some time, passed away this morning at 7 o'clock, leaving three daughters, Margaret, Mabel and Cora. She was 59 years of age, was a native of Iowa and had resided in and ner Glendale for the past fifteen years. Funeral services conducted by Rev. Clifford Cole will be held at the Christian Church Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with interment in Grand View in charge of the Scovern Company.

A. GELMOR INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

A Gelmor, the tailor, located at 138 South Brand boulevard, was badly hurt last Saturday. He and his wife were motoring to Riverside and their Ford coupe was run into by a large truck. It turned over twice and landed in a ditch by the roadside. Mr. Gelmor's skull was crushed and his head and body terribly cut and bruised. He is in the Riverside county hospital in a very dangerous condition. Mrs. Gelmor was not badly injured.

MRS. C. G. WOODS AN INDEPENDENCE DAY DAUGHTER

Mrs. C. G. Woods of Grand View avenue is one of the comparatively few people who celebrated Independence Day by being born on the Fourth of July. It is therefore a special festival in her family and this year she had the pleasure of gathering all her children around her except her son, Mc K. Woods of Pittsburgh, who sent her a telegram of congratulation. The family party included Charles Woods, Mr. and Mrs. St. Clair Woods of this city, and their little daughter and son Bettie and Jack Woods, William Woods of Long Beach and son Charles, Mrs. W. W. Simpson and son William, who have recently come from Pittsburgh, Mrs. Christina Smith of Long Beach, Mrs. Emma Simpson and Mrs. Leonora Miller.

The afternoon was devoted to the Rodeo at Burbank and on their return the birthday feast featured by a handsome birthday cake decorated with the national colors, was served. Fireworks and dancing completed the festivities of the evening. Mrs. Woods has an ideal home for such gatherings as the whole front of the house can be thrown together to form a ballroom of no small proportions. Her grandson William Woods has been having a royal time this week covering the Burbank Rodeo of which he has not missed a session.

Body Cremated

The body of William Monroe Quayle, of Los Angeles, who died at the Glendale sanitarium, on Saturday, was removed yesterday to Forest Lawn cemetery for cremation.

Though men make houses---

THE KEY TO HAPPINESS IN THE HOME
IS--- HARMONIOUS SURROUNDINGS

"Martha Malicia Goes Shopping"

"HOME"—and what is he coming to? "HOME" should be a haven in time of need—a place in which to seek comfort and sympathy—an abode in which there is a spirit of charming livableness and real beauty—for our homes express our own personalities! They are the outer shells of our very selves! "HOME" is "where our friends abide," and "HOME" is "where the heart is"!

Our Surroundings React Upon Us

If we are to have any individuality in decoration, we must be able to lay aside rigid rules and create our own standards, and the courage to do the daring thing in decoration is often the beginning of pleasing and refreshing rooms. Remember, in selecting your wallpapers, that light colors enlarge and dark colors contract a room, and you will easily be able to remedy a faulty appearance by following this simple rule. Your decision shouldn't be made from a small sample, or in a soft, dim light, either. It is best to hang two rolls together so you may get a good broad surface and see the effect. Before making your choice, stop in at L. H. Allison's store at 105 West Broadway and look over their exquisite selection of fine wallpapers which they are offering at less prices than in the city! Mr. Allison will be able to suggest to you just the design that will bring out the best in the woodwork in the room you wish to paper. And, if you intend to do the papering yourself, or, better still, have hubby "do the honors," on his afternoon off, you'll be able to buy a dandy step-ladder very reasonably at Allison's.

If She Could See Us Now!

Would't it be a revelation if grandmother could look into the Glendale Electric company, of 132 North Brand boulevard, and see a few of the numerous electrical conveniences? What would she say to our making coffee, toasting bread or poaching eggs right on the table? All of these conveniences for the housewife ourselves over a cook-stove? All of these conveniences for the housewife, electric grills, toasters, chaffing dishes and wonderful percolators in all sizes, are to be found at the Glendale Electric company. One would really be foolish to undertake "home-making" in the summertime without such useful appliances.

Lay in a Supply Now!

It may not be convenient for you to go to the store next time you need soap, so you had better supply your family with toilet soap now, while Fisher's Variety Store, of 212 East Broadway is offering such unusual specials. If you prefer Creme Oil, you can buy two bars for 15 cents at Fisher's; or there's Crystal Cocoa Handwater soap at 9 cents each or three for 25 cents; Peet's Mechanic soap at 10 cents a bar; two bars of Swiss Glycerine for 15 cents; Palm Olive at three for 25 cents, or 9 cents each, and the same for Peroxide—9 cents a bar or three for 25 cents! Perhaps you use Pine and Glycerine—well, at Fisher's you can buy that at a saving also—two bars for 15 cents!

Be Prepared When the Time Comes!

You are compelled to work for your money! Why not make your money work for you and help you when you need it most? That is what a term account at the First National Bank of Glendale will do. Remember, they pay 4 per cent interest and—your interest is growing night and day—Sundays, holidays and all of the time! Regular weekly or monthly deposits in a term account at the First National Bank, the corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway will, besides earning the 4 per cent interest, enable you to have just what you want most! And WHEN you want it, too! It is systematic saving that counts! SAVE and HAVE money when you need it for—

—Your Home.
—Your Wedding Day.
—Your Travel Pleasure.
—Your Child's Education.
—Your Old-Age Protection.
—Your Business Opportunity.

Surely you have the desire to be prepared for some of these, if not for all! If you follow the precept of systematically saving a portion of your money, they will all be within your reach in a very short while! The officers and employes of the First National Bank are pleased to serve you at any time.

Try the following recipe for Russian Duck when you have cold meat left over from dinner which you hesitate to serve "as is" again:

Russian Duck

Take cold meat and cut into thin slices. Put into a saucepan about one pint of brown gravy, one teaspoon of mixed herbs, one teaspoon of sage, a little grated lemon rind, salt and pepper to taste. Dip each piece of meat into flour—put into gravy, cover with a lid, and cook in a gentle oven for an hour and a half. Garnish with boiled rice.

Specialties for the Elks!

This week, Robinson's Men's Wear Shop of 116 South Brand boulevard is displaying the special equipment which the local and visiting Elks will wear for parade and during Convention Week. There are good-looking plain white shirts of the well-known Manhattan and Wilson Bros. makes; white belts for only $1.00 and most distinctive sterling front initial belt buckles, which Mr. Robinson is selling also at $1.00. Of course, you'll know all Elks by their pure-thread purple silk hose against low-cut white shoes.

Each and every Elk should have one of the nifty 14-karat gold Elk tie clasps with an Elk's head and B. P. O. E. across the front. Although the manufacturer sets the price at which these Elk tie clasps are to be sold throughout the United States, Mr. Robinson has secured permission to make a special price of $5.00 during Convention Week. If you know a Brother Elk who hasn't an Elks' tie clasp take him into Robinson's, where he may avail himself of the special convention prices, for really, a tie clasp will substitute for his pin when it's too warm to wear coats.

"A Perfect Dream"

Isn't it a wonderful feeling to know that it's all one's own? A house, I mean! It's such a satisfaction to know that the monthly payment is just money saved. J. F. Stanford of 112 1-2 South Brand boulevard has another "perfect dream" of a five-room colonial bungalow, with an extra large 21-foot living room, two lovely bedrooms, a dear little built-in breakfast nook, and a cool cement porch across the front. It's just all ready for you to move into, even the garage and cement driveay are in, and—$1000 will handle it! The balance you can pay off like rent—only $50 per month.

"Fluffy" and "Feminine"

It is certainly a joy to be freed from that awful fear of the front door—the fear that someone might call before you've had a chance to make yourself presentable for the day! I'll tell you, too—It was at Hatz's, 132 South Brand, that I found them. Why, by THEM, I mean the new Mina Taylor dresses, of course. You've seen them, haven't you? The daintiest of ginghams, some with perky bows, lace trimmed and hemstitched—well, just fluffy and "feminine." Then there are others in the chic, good-looking tailored models, but all of them are pretty and practical, and just the thing to slip on and wear around the house. And wash? Oh, my, yes, they wash just beautifully, and they give you such freedom of movement that it's really a pleasure to wear a Mina Taylor. Hatz's have them in those cheerful new color combinations in ginghams, and such delightfully cool percales. They also have some lovely gingham dresses from $3.95 up to $10, in all colors and a dozen different styles—some organdie and gingham combinations, others self-trimmed, some plain, and some with big, sassy sashes—you'll simply love them. But don't take my word for it—drop into Hatz's and see them for yourself!

Before removing ribbon from lingerie preparatory to putting it in the laundry, sew a piece of tape, the same length, to one end of the ribbon. In drrawing the ribbon, the tape takes its place. Leave this tape in until ready to put the ribbon back, and then fasten the ribbon to the tape and pull in place.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, July 6.—Jack Dempsey, the world's heavyweight champion, arrived here today "homeward bound." The champion is en route to visit his mother in Salt Lake City. Jack made three definite statements to reporters here. He declared he would not meet Carpentier again, expressed a willingness to fight Jess Willard and absolutely denied that he intended getting married.

PARIS, July 6.—The famous Paris-Brussels express was derailed near Mons today. First reports have it that six persons were killed and several injured. It is not known whether any Americans were among the casualties or whether any were aboard the train. The accident is said to have been due to foul play, part of the tracks having been torn up.

LONDON, July 6.—The entire British Mediterranean fleet is moving toward Constantinople, said a news agency dispatch from Malta this afternoon. It is believed that British troop reinforcements are en route to Constantinople from England.

DUBLIN, July 6.—The tacit peace between the Irish Republicans and the British crown forces was broken near Nwry today when five men were shot to death. The victims were dragged from their beds by armed masked men and killed near their homes.

FITZGERALD, Ga., July 6.—Three companies of infantry have been ordered here by Governor Hardwick to protect employes and property of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railway, following serious rioting last night. Fifty deputy sheriffs have been sworn in to assist the soldiers. W. T. Reid, engineer no the railroad, is believed to be dying from gunshot wounds received during the disorders.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Dr. David Jayne Hill, author, collegian and diplomatist of long experience, will likely be the administration's choice as the first American ambassador to Germany following the world war.

ROME, July 6.—The American consul at Naples is investigating a mutiny on board the American steamship Pocahontas, which has just arrived from New York. The captain of the steamship reported that the crew mutinied and damaged the machinery. A steward committed suicide during the excitement.

MEXICO CITY, July 6. — General Gomez, commander of the Mexican military forces at Tampico, who came here to confer with President Obregon, said today that the Tampico situation is very grave. Within a few days 20,000 laborers will be out of work as a result of the suspension of work by oil companies in the Tampico oil fields, General Gomez declared.

MARTINS FERRY, O., July 6.—Here is a new idea for hot weather. Roy Zimmerman invented the scheme. It works well, he says. He has no electric fan, but he has a substitute that is just as good. He disconnects the dust bag from his wife's vacuum cleaner and, placing the machine in the window, turns on the current and a stream of cool air pours into the room. There is just one disagreeable feature. When the dirt digester is used it makes more noise than the fans, waking the neighbors when used late at night.

TO ELECT ELDERS AND DEACONS

A congregational meeting has been called at the Glendale Presbyterian Church to take place tonight immediately following the prayer service to take action on the enlargement of the Board of Elders from 15 to 24, and to elect elders and deacons.

City Council Takes Oath of Office; Robinson Mayor

by City Clerk Sherer, who then administered the oath to City Treasurer Stauffacher.

Yet the dear public who will be most affected by this administration and who by their votes called these men to office by absence showed their indifference to or unconsciousness of the fact that it was a great moment in the destiny of Glendale.

Every councilman avoided the seat of the chairman and Councilman Robinson who came last found the chair to which he has grown accustomed occupied by another. His confreres grinned as he sought another outside the charmed circle around the table, and they also guyed him about his new and becoming clothes. When all were seated and the council had come to order at the call of Clerk Sherer, Councilman Stephenson made a brief speech in which he declared that the electors of Glendale had expressed in no uncertain terms by their votes their desires and therefore he wished to place in nomination to act as the first mayor of Glendale, Spencer Robinson. The nomination was seconded by Councilman Lapham with an accompanying chorus of applause by the audience and the unanimous vote of the council placed Mr. Robinson in the chair at the head of the table. With manifest pleasure but modestly he accepted the honor, saying in his characteristic way:

"I now have the opportunity of making the first speech of my life and take this chance to thank the citizens of Glendale for the honor conferred upon me at the last municipal election. The charter states that the council may select one of its members to hold the highest office that the city can give to one of its citizens. Gentlemen of the Council, I thank you for this high honor you have bestowed upon me." Applause even more enthusiastic from council members and the audience followed this little expression of appreciation and then the new council adjourned for one hour.

Visitors then gathered at the railing to congratulate the councilmen and express their pleasure in the events of the evening.

When the council was again called to order no business was transacted but there was informal discussion of the problem connected with the collection of garbage.

The Problem of Suffering

By W. E. Edmunds.

At the Presbyterian church Sunday morning the pastor, Rev. W. E. Edmonds, preached on "The Problem of Suffering," using a series of texts: "As by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin, and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned." (1 Rom. 5:12); "Whom the Lord loveth He chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth." (Heb. 12:6); "Moses choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season," (Heb. 11:25); "For unto you it is given in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake," (Phil. 1:29); "And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away." (Rev. 21:4.)

Next to sin itself, suffering is the most inexplicable enigma. People go into atheistic beliefs on account of it, saying there is no God, and that men are tossed to and fro by blind chance. And some take the position of the fatalist—"Just go along and make the best of it." "Grin and bear it."

Now, the Scriptures make it clear that man is born to trouble. Jesus Christ was a man of sorrows. Paul said: "That I might know Him, and the fellowship of His suffering." There is a lot of fellowship that this world is missing.

But there is another aspect of suffering that we must not miss—the judicial side, the penalty of sin. Think of the thousands of children who are damned before they are born. There is a mighty obligation to give the child its true birthright. It is a serious thing to be a parent. Some think "this life is all the hell there is," but we are told: "After this life the judgment."

And again, there is the disciplinary side of suffering, the work of the Father who corrects, meant to remedy our faults, a sign, not of God's displeasure, but His love. And there is the preparatory side, and the educative. Do you remember that the refiner never leaves the crucible? He sits right by it, watching the moment. Jesus stands right by; when the right moment comes, he turns off the heat. I am sorry for the one who is going along without any trying, refining. In your bed of pain you have looked up into Jesus' face and learned. Three graces—patience, humility and unselfishness—always and only are developed through suffering. A piece of iron that will take temper is made into a useful article; if it will not, it goes to the scrap heap. How can people be willing to go on to the scrap heap? "Oh, how long must I stay in this fire?" "Until it is enough." Oh, take courage; you are in the hands of a father, not an enemy.

Sum it all up: God is love. Trial is the school of trust. The sweetest songs are songs in the night. In everything give thanks.

EDUCATION TO BE MORE PRACTICAL

Numerous changes in elementary education have been recommended at the National Education Association Convention which is in session in Des Moines, Ia., and at which Superintendent Richardson D. White is in attendance as the local representative of the Glendale City Teachers' Club.

Fairy stories and Mother Goose rhymes should be taboo in schools and a substitution of stories regarding real people should be made, in the opinion of a committee which yesterday reported on "changes needed in the elementary schools."

Other changes recommended by this committee also at the practical. It is suggested that shop work and cooking be taught throughout the school career of the child. In history biography is minimized to discoveries, inventions and ideas.

Dormant Ambition

CHICAGO, July 6.—Dolly Malley, 13-year-old schoolgirl, has never seen a railroad train except in the school "g'og'aphy." Although living within easy walking distance of five great Chicago railway terminals, the girl has never left the neighborhood of her home. Newspapermen who found that she had never even visited Chicago's "loop," only eight blocks away, suspected a "child prisoner" story. Investigation showed, however, it was entirely Dolly's fault. "I just never cared about going away from here," she told reporters. "I was born and raised here in this neighborhood and it's good enough for me." Not even "choo-choos" can coax her away.

THEATERS

Palace Grand

Picture lovers are by now quite prepared to see their favorite stars in dual or triple roles, but perhaps never before have they seen a star acting not only two roles simultaneously, but also appearing as a ghost, moving serenely, im transparently, through the rooms of a house. This novel and difficult camera trick has been worked out to perfection in the latest Mary Miles Minter picture, "All Souls' Eve," which comes to the Palace Grand Theatre today for a day's run. The play was a tremendous stage sensation in New York last season.

Also as an added attraction see Jane and Katherine Lee in "Dixie Mad Caps."

Glendale Theatre

Kara Glynesk was a fair charmer who had made more experienced men than Richard Audaine, known as the Imp, forget the dinner hour, and while his friends waited at home with a candle-trimmed cake and gifts to surprise him on his twenty-first birthday, he was forgetting everything in the arms of Kara.

"When We Were Twenty-One" presents H. B. Warner at the Glendale Theatre today in the role that was Nat Goodwin's greatest success. Adapted from the play by H. V. Esmond, depicts the love of a foolish boy for a siren who wanted his money, the sacrifice of a wiser and more experienced man who loved the boy, and the love of a girl for both of them.

James Morrison, Claire Anderson, Christine Mayo, Claude Payton and Minna Grey, figure prominently in the cast supporting Mr. Warner in this Jesse D. Hampton produced picture, directed by Henry King.

The newest Century Comedy entitled "Playmates" completes a fine program.

LOCAL PEOPLE HAVE PLEASANT PICNIC

Somerset Farm, the home of J. C. There was a mid-day picnic luncheon under the pepper trees, games of croquet were played in the afternoon, and fireworks furnished the evening's diversion.

HONOR THE FLAG

The Glendale Daily Press struck a responsive chord in its offer of a beautiful bunting flag with each yearly subscription paid in advance. All we could procure at that time were speedily taken and many applied for the flags after the supply had been exhausted. To satisfy these demands we have ordered a new supply, and these will be given on the same terms as were the first. The Daily Press is not doing this as a money-making proposition, for the flags are quite costly and the paper is worth every cent asked for it, but we desire to do our bit toward stimulating patriotism and reverence for the flag. We hope to eventually see "Old Glory" displayed in every Glendale home, and we want to do our part toward bringing this about.

Fill out the coupon below and bring it or mail it to the office, accompanied with $5 for a year's advance subscription, and a flag will be laid away for you. If in arrears, pay to date and a year in advance to get the flag.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is mussy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

PERHAPS GEORGES IS MORAL CHAMPION BUT HE DOESN'T GET PURSE

The aftermath of the big battle at Jersey City for the heavy weight championship of the world has taken a peculiar turn.

While a plan to indict Jack Dempsey on a charge of battery is being projected by Dr. Wilbur Crafts of the reform bureau of New Jersey, George Bernard Shaw who took issue with the wise ones of the ring in pre-fight predictions and claimed Carpentier was a 30 to 1 shot, now boldy asserts that the French heavyweight won the battle and announces with emphasis:

"I stand by every word of my article. Dempsey was morally knocked out in the first round, also in the second."

Shaw fails to give Dempsey credit for having physically knocked out Carpentier in the fourth round and inasmuch as a puglist is never given credit for moral victories, however numerous they may be, one suspects that Shaw is merely amusing himself with so many words and anticipates a claim on his part that Carpentier is the "moral heavyweight champion of the world."

However that may be Shaw has succeeded in taking the teeth out of Dr. Crafts' proposed charge of battery against Dempsey. Certainly if Georges was so aggressive as to have won moral victories in both the first and second rounds then he, and not Dempsey, should stand the indictment of assault.

WAVE OF CRIME SWEEPS GERMANY

(By International News Service)

BERLIN, July 6.—"Gott Mit Uns" is no longer the slogan in republican Germany. Is the feeling that God abandoned Germany responsible for an increasing tendency for Germany to abandon God? The Berliner Tageblatt attempts to analyze the reasons why Protestants, Catholics and Jews are leaving their churches in increasing numbers.

Godlessness is developing in the cities, whereas the country districts have lost but few members of the church, finds the Tageblatt. In one year the Protestant churches in Berlin have lost more than 80,000 members, the total loss of the Protestant churches for all Germany being about 150,000. The total number of members of the Catholic Church in Berlin has receded 7,000 during the past year. The Catholics are in the minority in Northern Germany.

The number of Jews withdrawing from the synagogue is double the number of resignations before the war, the Tageblatt declares. "The most important reason for the increasing army of dissidents is the increasing church taxes. But also the fact that the broad masses view the Protestant Church as the instrument of militaristic Germany and therefore fight it plays a large role. The experiences of the war have also left their mark."

"Gott Mit Uns," but not with increased church taxes, summarizes the Tageblatt's investigations.

NEW LIPS HEIGHTEN WOMAN'S BEAUTY

NEW YORK, July 6.—Women of prominence in New York have been highly interested in the news from Paris that Mrs. William Ellis Corey has had an operation to transform her lips into a cupid's bow. A French beauty specialist performed the feat for the former Mabelle Gilman, actress and singer.

As Mabelle Gilman, she was wooed and won by Mr. Corey, former president of the United States Steel corporation. For some years the Coreys have lived at the Corey chateau in Paris.

When she was on the stage, Mrs. Corey was known for her striking and unusual beauty. She was considered one of the loveliest women in America.

The cupid's bow—or the sewed smile, as the operation is sometimes known—is one of the most recent discoveries of beauty surgery.

The lips are cut deftly at each corner and then caught with one or two stitches so as to take in whatever lip is necessary to bring the mouth to the desired size. Then the fullness is taken from the lower lip by removing a strip of skin on the inside. The edges are sewn together to draw the lip in and decrease its drooping fullness. By drawing the skin tightly at the corners of the mouth any wrinkles will disappear.

The tiny stitches are removed within a day and all scars heal within two weeks.

Uncle Walt's Story

SPARING THE ROD

"As I came past Jimuelson's house this morning," said the assessor, "I saw him applying a buggy-whip to his fifteen-year-old boy with a zeal worthy a better cause. I think a man should be arrested and punished for such an offense."

"There are many arguments for and against corporal punishment," observed the village patriarch, "and those arguments have been handed back and forth for something like two thousand years, and the question is as far from being settled, at the hour of going to press, as it was when Caesar double-crossed the Rubicon.

"I believe that every man must be his own judge about the management of his family. Jimuelson strikes me as an excellent citizen, and he should be a successful parent. If he finds it necessary to wear out a buggy-whip on his heir, I have no doubt that the provocation is sufficient. If his policy is wrong he is pretty sure to realize it before long and change his tactics; meanwhile outsiders have no reason to butt in, and the idea of calling the police is perfectly ridiculous.

"My father was an old-fashioned man who believed that an ounce of birch was better than a ton of education. He kept a small sapling behind the kitchen door and applied it to my person whenever I violated the by-laws governing our happy home. I think he probably carried his theory to extremes; whipping me became a sort of dissipation with him. But I am willing to admit that his treatment did me good, and I can't imagine what would have become of me but for it.

"My mother believed in moral suasion, and used to plead and argue with me, but I can't remember that her tender eloquence ever prevented me from breaking into a melon patch or fishing in forbidden waters. Her method probably would have been successful in many cases. There are boys who are responsive to such appeals, but I was headstrong as a government mule and when I wanted to do something it took more than gentle counsel to head me off.

"I had a profound respect for that sapling behind the door. It always seemed to be quivering with impatience to get at me, and my father regarded it with loving glances. It used to mystify me how he heard of everything I did. There was no such a thing as concealing a crime or misdemeanor from him.

"I'd swipe a few apples from a farmer's orchard, for instance, and would be willing to make an affidavit that nobody had seen me. I took all possible precautions against discovery. Yet in the evening, when I got home, my stern parent would meet me at the door and say, 'So you have been robbing Farmer Dofunny's orchard, hey? You are fully aware that robbing orchards does violence to the peace and dignity of the state, and is contrary to the provisions of the revised statutes. Come, therefore, and receive the punishment prescribed by Solomon and other law-givers.'

"He always explained that it caused him the most poignant sorrow to pour the birch into me, but I couldn't believe in his sincerity, for his eyes sparkled with unseemly joy at such times, and if he had used the same enthusiasm when sawing wood, he'd have whacked up two or three cords in an hour.

"I don't know to this day how he found out everything I did, unless he did some quiet sleuthing with false whiskers and a dark lantern, but he always did discover everything, and when I fully realized that fact I decided to reform and became a model young man. I was so extremely good that my father couldn't dig up an excuse for chastising me, and a settled melancholy fell upon him and he pined away until he died. I'll never forget the reproachful glances he used to cast upon me, as though asking whether I considered my course honorable or generous. I got into the habit of being good, and have never been able to break away from it."

The Only One on Him.

POLICE SYSTEM IS UPSET BY AUTOS

By EARLE C. REEVES.
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

LONDON, July 6.—The automobile and the motorcycle have revolutionized the business of detecting crime in England.

The new science of the detective leaves the pure-reason methods of Poe's Dupin and the scientific observation and inductive reasoning of Sherlock Holmes far behind.

The proponents of what Scotland Yard men describe as "more than a science" will tell you that present-day detectives would leave Mr. Holmes-Watson at heel—at the starting post, hidden in a haze of dust and gasoline smoke.

The motor-car has made the art of the detective, above everything else, a question of speed.

London, as nearly alarmed as Englishmen ever get at the recent unemployed demonstrations and more recent Sinn Fein activities, has watched "Bobbies" race by on motorcycles and in sidecars and has read of veritable squadrons of them scattering to the four corners of the city in automobiles for round-ups. And London believes that Scotland Yard, on rubber tires, petrol-driven, is efficient and that its firesides are safe.

"Many important innovations have been introduced into the science of detecting crime," says Chief Inspector Sweeney, of Scotland Yard, "but to my mind the introduction of the motorcar, although it was the simplest and perhaps the most obvious, was by far the most important. The factor of time is so very important. If the detective police can be on the scene of a crime soon after it is committed they can very often obtain information at once which otherwise it would take them many days and much skilled work to collect.

"The work of the detective is now practically a science, and at Scotland Yard we have tried to make it even more than a science. We try to temper science with imagination. Edgar Allan Poe's detective, Dupin, secured his results by the exercise of pure reason. Sherlock Holmes seemed to obtain most of his results by imagination, or luck. We try to make our detectives a mixture of Holmes and Dupin."

Crime also runs on wheels, as the sudden concentration of unemployed for an attack on Islington Town Hall recently proved, and as was shown during the outburst of Sinn Fein attacks on the homes of Royal Irish Constabulary men in London a few weeks ago indicated. "The Yard" has had need of speed. Although the spectacular American motor bandit has no cousin operating here, the bolshevik, the Irishman and the hooligan among the workless, all have given the London force many a test of its ability to concentrate with lightning speed, and revealed the necessity of plotting instaneous movement to meet any emergency.

'UNWRITTEN LAW' INVADES FRANCE

International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, France, July 6. — Many men and women, including the country's best lawyers, writers and parliamentarians, have suddenly plunged into a controversy over the application of something akin to the American "unwritten law," but broadened to include every kind of socalled "love murder."

The discussion arose over the acquittal of a young engineer who shot and killed the husband of his former mistress in the street, without any preliminary discussion taking place. His only excuse was that he loved the woman and that his victim had taken her from him.

The Countess de Noailles immediately pronounced her opinion.

"The jury was right," she said. "In a crime like this, where love is so important an element, where there is so much human tragedy involved, a jury has the right to find that there were two victims—the man who fired the shot, as well as the man who fell dead at his feet."

"To acquit such people is simply absurd," replied Alfred Capus, well-known French writer and member of the French Academy. "They should be punished like any other murderers."

De Porto Riche, French playwright, applauded the verdict.

"I am always happy when the jury shows itself lenient in such cases," he said. "A death sentence against the young engineer would have been monstrous."

"There should be no such thing as the 'unwritten law' or the acquittal of a person alleged to have been suddenly moved by a great love to kill another," said Bernstein. "In most cases real love has nothing to do with the crime. It is simply the last act of hatred directed by a weak mind."

YOUNG EDISON'S IDEA

It will be a fine thing in ten or fifteen years for one to manufacture his own fuel as he motors about the city or across the country in the family flivver. No stoppnig at monumental filling stations, no wondering how soon the price of gasoline will go up after a recent gift by John D. to the flaxen-haired boys under 15 in Borneo. Each automobile will carry a still—not the kind that produces a well-known beverage, but a fuel oil—which will be operated by the heat and motion of the car.

This is the prophecy of Thomas A. Edison, Jr., son of the famous inventor. "For ten years I have been working on a substitute for oil, a mixture of kerosene and some other ingredient that will have the combustible qualities of gasoline," says young Edison. "I believe that a mixture will some day be found. We shall be able to solve the problem by manufacturing stills for individual cars to distill a combustible mixture from crude petroleum and other chemicals while the car is in motion, just as cars generate electricity power while running."

The inventor's son is no less ambitious than his father. Not only would he have ecah automobile distill enough combustible mixture to run itself, but there would be by-products which the thrifty automobile owner would sell and thus pay for the repairs. new tires and other costs incidental to the upkeep of the car.

We may not all glimpse Edison's vision, but we will certainly endorse his work. In fact, we will hope that it is less than ten or fifteen years before every car is its own oil well.

FITNESS AND PROPORTION

It's a great life! First it's the war for humanity; then it's an attack on the personal liberty of everyone by everyone else; then it's reconstruction, which doesn't reconstruct; then it's some more war; then it's a long harangue about Yap; then it's an industrial democracy for the workers; and a famine for the farmers; then strikes; then compromises; then after-dinner oratory—at $25 a plate to clean everything up and start another millennium.

We are a great people, because we have a bulldog determination, the capacity for hard work, and a corking good idea of humor. We are going to get by, and things are going to be better in the United States than they have ever been before because we are going to stick together and "put it over," as the boys say.

There is one thing, however, we ought to stop paying for, and that is the spoiled reputations, murders and suicides, with which the biggest newspapers regale us. Newspaper men say that's what the public wants; that it helps to sell their papers. We don't believe it. We think people prefer clean news, good stories and attractive pictures, and that they are infinitely more interested in the achievements of earnest, progressive men and women than they are in the sordid escapades of society's misfits. What the average newspaper publisher needs is a good fresh cocktail of country air to restore his sense of values.

Because there are two sides to an argument is no sign it should be continued indefinitely.

A pessimist always looks as though he were afraid it would cost him a few pennies to look pleasant.

Saying the wrong thing is misfortune, but trying to explain it is disaster.

GRAVE AND GAY

It is easy to explain almost everything except the fact that an explanation is necessary.

The folly of an 'ism is usually in direct proportion to the wild enthusiasm of its followers.

Ho, hum. What was so rare as a day in June that brought no missive beginning: "Mr. and Mrs. John Doe request the honor of your presents."

The thought of a dishonorable peace usually shocks statesmen much more than the thought of a dishonorable war.

The old-fashioned girl was proud to own a sulky, but now she is a little sulky if she can't have a sport roadster.

The problems of civilization are those that annoy and alarm people who live in towns of more than 3000 population.

Very likely Adam chased Eve all over Eden to get half of that apple, and then accused her of tempting him.

Reverses, according to a clergyman, do not always humble us. They usually do, however, if we reverse without blowing the horn.

If a girl cooks for a family at $15 a week, that is drudgery. If she cooks for one for her board and clothes, that is romance.

A stenographer has been willed $300,000 by her late employer, and nobody has been mean enough to suggest that the will was marked "Dictated, but not read."

Benson—"Do you know when a baby begins to think?"

Hobson—"Yes; mine began to think I ought to walk the floor with him when he was a week old."

The most annoying insect pest of the summer is the man who persists in offering proof that he gets 32 miles to the gallon in his flivver.

It isn't the immodesty of the gown we object to as much as the freak shoulder blades revealed.

"I thought you were a good shot."

"So I am."

"But you shot at and missed the burglar."

"Yes; you see, that was the first time I'd ever tried that gun on burglars."

There is no excellence without great labor, but there is plenty of labor without great excellence.

"Gumbee, what are you going around for with your mouth all puckered up?" asked Tom.

"I am looking for a good dentist," returned Dick.

"Look for my ideal of one, will you?" said Tom.

"What may that be?"

"One that sits down in the chair after he has given you his worst stabs and says that you may give him the same at the maximum price."

"Whew! I shall have to look among the socialists for him!"

The ventriloquist managed to scramble aboard the train as it was leaving the station in England. He had had no time to get a dog ticket for his terrier.

When the cry: "All tickets ready," was heard a few stations farther on, the ventriloquist dropped the dog into a hamper which was labelled in bold characters, "Professor Jones, Ventriloquist."

The conductor opened the coor and the dog began to bark. Noticing the label on the hamper, the conductor turned to the ventriloquist with a self-satisfied grin and said: "All right, mister! That's very clever; but you can't fool me! That trick's been played on me before!"

Helpful Hints to Housewives

Baked Sweet Potatoes

—are worth trying. Boil, pare and mash the potatoes, add butter and salt to taste, and enough hot milk to make the mass soft and creamy, like mashed white potatoes. Put into a buttered baking dish, cover the top lightly with buttered crumbs and bake until brown.

Hamburg Steak

—may be made less expensive by mixing it with rice, and it is very good. To prepare it, boil one cup of rice until soft, rinse in cold water until the grains separate, then mix thoroughly with one pound of finely chopped beef from the lower part of the round, season with salt and pepper, form into cakes and fry in a little fat.

Stuffed Sausages

—are more wholesome and delicate if parboiled before frying; this removes part of the grease and they can be thoroughly cooked without over-frying. The water in which they were boiled should be set aside until cold, and the fat taken off in a cake. The sausage for breakfast can be boiled for about eight minutes the night before, then quickly finished in the morning.

Fairy Eggs

—make a pretty and delicious dish for company. If served at a party they may be arranged on the plates on which they are to be served. They are quickly and easily prepared thus: Drain one can of peaches or apricots, and place the halves of fruit on rounds of stale cake which have been dipped in the fruit juice. Surround each piece with whipped and sweetened cream or evaporated milk. Sprinkle with cocoanut which has been toasted to a light brown in the oven.

A Closet in the Pantry

—is as handy as the proverbial pocket in a shirt, and the handy man will have no difficulty in building one between the shelves. Two boards for the sides, two more for the doors, some strips of wood for cleats, hinges, knobs and a catch, and the closet is finished.

Egg and Cheese Sandwiches

—will do nicely for a party menu, or for a Sunday night supper. To make them, chop four hard-boiled eggs and pound them in a wooden bowl with one cup of grated cheese, four tablespoons of melted butter, one-half teaspoon of salt, and one-fourth teaspoon of pepper. Now mix with three tablespoons of salad dressing and spread between rounds of buttered brown or white bread. For variety, the bread might be cut into strips, in triangles, or, for a St. Valentine party, with a heart-shaped cutter.

Scalloped Oysters

—are particularly good in cold weather, and can be prepared from the bottled oysters as well as from those which have been freshly opened. Mix either cracker or bread crumbs with melted butter, adding a pinch of cayenne pepper and salt to taste. Place in a baking dish, alternate layers of oysters and bread crumbs, with the crumbs on top, bake until the oysters are thoroughly cooked. A third of a cup of butter to one cup of crumbs gives satisfactory results, and the bulk of butter and crumbs should double that of the oysters.

Keep Dry Yeast

—on hand during cold weather. There are times when it is impossible to get to town for a fresh supply. One of our folks makes yeast by boiling together one quart of new buttermilk and a lump of alum the size of a hickory-nut. Scald one cup of flour with this mixture and allow it to cool, then add one cup of good yeast, a generous teaspoon of sugar and a half teaspoon of salt. Allow it to rise, stir in enough cornmeal to make a stiff batter, allow it to rise again, roll out to about one-quarter of an inch in thickness, cut into cakes about two inches in diameter, and let them dry. One of these yeast cakes is sufficient to raise from four to six loaves of bread.

STUDIO NEWS AND GOSSIP

Mabel Taliaferro Returns to Screen

Mabel Taliaferro, star of the stage and screen for many years, returns to the screen after an absence of a year in Paramount's version of Sir James M. Barrie's "Sentimental Tommy." Miss Taliaferro has the role of "The Painted Lady," the youthful mother of Grizel, heroine of the picture, who has a penchant for the frivolities and constantly looks for a letter from her lover which never comes.

It is the sort of a role for which Miss Taliaferro with her elfin, wistful wy is especially suited, and her interpretation of it makes it stand out as one of the classics of screen characterizations.

Miss Taliaferro's record is so well known that it may be passed over briefly. On the stage since she was two years old, she created such roles as Lovey Mary in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch;" Polly in "Polly of the Circus;" Nance Olden in "The Bishop's Carriage," and Madeline in "Springtime." Her first appearance on the screen was in "Cinderella" in 1912-13 and she subsequently became a Metro star for three years, during which time she achieved wide popularity.

Gareth Hughes is seen as Tommy and May McAvoy as Grizel and others in the cast include George Fawcett, Leila Frost, Virginia Valli, Harry L. Coleman, Dale Davenport, and Alfred Kappeler.

Constance Binney Out West

Constance Binney, Realart star of the first water, has been ordered from New York to Hollywood, to make pictures. She is now engaged in filming "The Case of Becky" at the Long Island City studio and as soon as the work is completed she is expected to head West for a long stay in the movie capital.

Drama of Alaska

Hobart Bosworth's second independent picture for Associated Producers will be known as "Renunciation." It is pressagented as a colorful and gripping drama of Alaska of the gold rush period and of America of today. Bosworth's role is that of a prospector.

Art Acord, Universal cowboy is to be starred in "The Cowpuncher's Comeback."

Viola Dana, Metro star, has been acclaimed queen of the Reno Roundup, a picturesque Western event to be staged in the metropolis of the Sagebrush State July 2-5. Eight beautiful girls will serve as her maids of honor throughout her stay in Reno. The members of the reception committee will be taken from their homes to Reno in aeroplanes and, later, will be carried to meet the incoming queen by the same means of transportation.

Of Interest to Musicians

The ambitions of Antonio Scotti mount higher and higher and they are quite justified in view of his success as an impressario. The latest announcement is that his company will include in the fall tour no less an operatic figure than Geraldine Farrar, who will sing a series of performances with the Scotti company on the Pacific coast, her first operatic appearance in that part of the country. Her debut will be made in Seattle and she will also sing in San Francisco and Los Angeles. With Miss Farrar added to the other artists already announced by Mr. Scotti, he will be at the head of a company of the very first rank. One hears, too, that Mme. Frances Alda will also appear with the organization in special performances.

A society for the publication of American music has been formed in Japan. Another thing of interest in Japanese musical circles is that Mischa Elman gave his second season of violin recitals in the Imperial theater at Tokio. In this the "Chanson triste Japanaise" dedicated to Mr. Elman by Koscak Yamada, the Japanese composer, was a feature of the program.

A guild of singers and players has been recently formed in London. Its purpose is to make it possible for young artists to arrange concerts in combination and to reduce the cost in that way of halls, printing and advertising.

The Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra has gone out of existence. The musical union objected to the action of the board of directors in "selling the orchestra to the park board for the summer concerts at Lake Harriet," basing their objections on the fact that nonunion organizations would be heard at Lake Harriet during the summer. Elbert Carpenter, head of the Minneapolis Orchestra Association and chief of the guarantors, objected to the union's objections, with the result that Minneapolis has lost her most cherished possession.

Minneapolis without the Minneapolis orchestra is inconceivable to those who know the city only as the home of one of the finest symphonic bodies in the country. A new orchestra may arise on the ruins of the old or the old one may be revived. That Minneapolis will permit her reputation as a musical center to fade seems unlikely.

Musically, St. Paul's loss will equal that of Minneapolis, for all the Minneapolis concerts were repeated in St. Paul.

BARTLETTS ATTEND POMONA BANQUET

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bartlett and their house guest, motored to Pomona on July 4 to attend the banquet and entertainment given by Pomona college for delegates to the Congregational convention in session in Los Angeles. Covers were laid for about 1000, and it was a rather wonderful occasion. The delegates appeared to greatly enjoy the trip to Pomona and to find the Southern California climate and appearance of the country a revelation which upset some of their preconceived ideas of summer in this part of the world.

BOYS CHARGED WITH VANDALISM MUST REMAIN AT HOME THIRTY DAYS

Charged with vandalism of a flagrant character in wrecking one of the rooms of the Pacific Avenue School on Saturday, two young boys, Warren Whitaker, 525 West Elk avenue, and Eugene Kellogg, 520 West Elk, who were in attendance at the school during the past term, were brought this morning before Judge F. H. Lowe for a hearing.

Severely lecturing the boys for their pernicious destructiveness Judge Lowe instructed the parents of the two offenders that they were to be kept on the premises of their homes for a period of thirty days. The parents will be required to meet the cost of repairing the damage done at the school, which it is thought will approximate $100.

The boys, it is said, in an effort to revenge some punishment that was administered to them during the school term broke into the building on Saturday and after throwing equipment of one of the rooms about and emptying the contents of some of the desks, broke 42 panes of glass.

PERSONAL

Mrs. Susie Weisling and two daughters, Amelia and Kathryn, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Green and child, and Mrs. J. I. Bolson and son, Albert Henry, motored to Long Beach Saturday and spent the week-end there.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occassionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their effort to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

HARDING WILL BE AT FETE OF MISSOURI

One Hundred Anniversary of Missouri as State Will Be Celebrated August 10

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 6.—Missouri will celebrate her 100th birthday as a State on August 10. Proud of her record, her growth and her progress, she is making plans to commemorate the event by a monster centennial celebration to be held in connection with the State fair at Sedalia from August 8 to August 20,

It was on August 10, 1921, that Missouri was admitted to the Union as a State. And assurances have been received that on August 10 this year President Warren G. Harding will be the guest of honor of the Missouri Centennial Exposition and deliver an address in the amphitheatre in Sedalia. It is expected that General John J. Pershing, Rear-Admiral Robert E. Coontz, General E. H. Crowder and other prominent Missourians will also attend on that day.

Two hundred and thirty-nine years ago, on April 9, 1682, the French voyager and explorer La Salle, having slowly made his way up the mighty Mississippi, "Father of Waters," and crossed westward through the Ozark country, claimed what is now Missouri in the name of the King of France. The territory was part of "Louisiana" and it was sold to the United States on December 20, 1803. In 1804 Congres divided the territory into upper and lower Louisiana, and in 1812 Misgress divided the territory into upper with an Assembly and Governor.

In 1818 Missouri applied for admission as a State, but two years of bitter controversy followed during which were evolved the "Dred Scott Decision" and the famous "Missouri Compromise." Finally after three years of ceaseless effort Missouri won her Statehood.

The centennial exposition commemorating that event will be featured by "The Pageant of Missouri," which represents in fifteen episodes the growth of Missouri from a frontier community to a great sovereign State.

To Strike Centennial Coin.

The pageant will depict all the important episodes in Missouri history with great scenic settings, wonderful lighting effects, and with more than 5,000 characters taking part, attired in the costumes representative of the various periods of Missouri history. Rehearsals of the pageant have already begun, while a corps of thirty scenic artists are at work on the pageant settings.

Invitations have been extended to all native Missourians and former residents to return to Missouri for the exposition. Special trains are coming from all directions—one from as far away as Los Angeles, to bring Missourians "back home."

There have been fifty-two Governors of Missouri. They have approximately 1,000 living descendants. All have been asked to be special guests of the exposition on Descendants Day," August 9.

Two hundred and fifty thousand centennial half dollars will be struck off by the United States mint at Washington in commemoration of the event. These coins, of the regular size and value, will be cut from a special die. On one side will be the State seal of Missouri while on the other side appears a pioneer's head, with the inscription: "Missouri Centennial,—1821-1921." The coin was designed by Robert Aitken, of New York City, and the pieces will be issued as change at the ticket windows at the exposition.

In addition to the historical features and exhibits there will be many other attractions, including horse races, an aerial circus, auto races and special exhibitions of fireworks.

Sedalia is busily preparing for the entertainment of visitors. "Every home in Sedalia, from the most humble to the most palatial, will be thrown wide open for the entertainment of visitors," says Mayor F. F. Hatton, of Sedalia. More than a million are expected to attend the event.

All It Needs Is Publicity

(By International News Service)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 5. — Rent gougers don't flourish at Linn, Osage County, Mo. The residents of that quiet little town, far removed from the rumble of speeding railroad trains, have never had occasion to become vexed at the high cost of living, according to A. C. McKibbin, director of publicity for the Republican State Committee.

"I bought a weekly paper at Linn," says McKibbin, "and the citizens asked me if I didn't want to rent a house—a handsome new cottage near my office.

"The rental agent said it would be six dollars a month when I asked the price!"

NO WATER FAMINE IS THREATENING CITY THIS SUMMER

Glendale is facing the summer with an assurance of no water famine, an assurance she has lacked heretofore but Providence has been kind and the critical periods have been passed without serious mishap. This year a brand new pumping unit is in operation on San Fernando Road which will keep the reservoirs full even should the old pump break down and go out of commission.

The big new reservoir on north Glendale avenue will not be filled, City Manager Watson says, until it has been covered. It is intended to serve the whole city and when it comes into use increased water pressure will be noticed in all parts of the municipality.

GIRL SCOUTS WILL MEET REGULARLY

Thirteen Girl Scout, (there would have been more but for the illness of a few members of the troop) had a very successful meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Margaret Brown on north Kenwood, where most of the time was devoted to taking second class tests under direction of Miss Gladys Sharpe, leader of the troop.

A decision was reached to meet weekly during the summer and enlarge the troop, though no defnite date for the enlargement was set. The second class tests will be finished at the next meeting which will take place at the home of Ruth Dana on North Louise next Tuesday afternoon. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Brown at the close of the afternoon.

HOME WEDDING WILL BE CELEBRATED THIS EVENING

D. Ripley Jackson, who is SOME decorator, is busier than a cranberry merchant today, making his home at Brand boulevard and San Fernando road ready for the wedding which is to take place tonight, when his cousin, Miss Marian Brown, of Honolulu, will become the bride of Oscar John Corneliussen. The groom lived for seven years or more in Honolulu where he became a champion swimmer and diver and was otherwise celebrated as an athlete, and it was there that the happy pair met. He is an ex-service man, and is now located in Los Angeles.

Under the wonderful floral canopy which Mr. Jackson is building, they will be married by Dr. Judd, also of Honolulu. After a honeymoon in the mountains, which will last about a month, they will take possession of the attractive apartment which is furnished and awaiting them in Hollywood.

'THE VALLEY OF TEN THOUSAND SMOKES'

Members of the Epworth League of the First Methodist church are announcing a unique illustrated lecture and entertainment for next Friday evening at the church, entitled, "The Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes." It will be given by a representative sent out by the National Geographical society to a little known part of Alaska, seldom visited by white men.

The program will include a few local numbers. It is not likely to be a lecture that will especially interest users of the "filthy weed."

CLAIMS AUTO WAS RAMMED IN REAR

Michael Werner, 812 East Lomita avenue, filed a complaint at police headquarters this morning against the driver of an automobile bearing the license number 165-926, whom he asserts struck and damaged the rear of his machine on San Fernando road last evening.

According to the complaint, Werner was driving his car in heavy traffic and when forced to stop with the cessation of traffic, was rammed by the automobile directly behind him.

Coal production since 1913 is said to have declined all over the world with the single exception of China, where the annual output of coal has increased.

UNCLE SAM PLANTS FOR POSTERITY

(By International News Service)

TACOMA, July 6.—While this is garden time in the great Northwest, Uncle Sam started last week on a little garden planting venture that covers an area of approxinuately 400 acres in the mountains near Tacoma and which will be ready for harvest about one hundred years from now.

This Spring gardening of the Government is part of the reforestation programme of the Forestry Department and is in charge of E. J. Fenby, deputy forest supervisor of the Rainier National Forest Reserve. Thirty thousand young Douglas fir trees no higher than one's shoes are being planted by Mr. Fenby and twelve forest rangers.

Of course the planting is rather rough and does not follow out well-lined rows as in gardening in the back yard, but the rangers are placing the young trees about eight feet apart. Last year 500 acres were planted.

The area which is being replanted covers about 100,000 acres which were burned over about twenty years ago and which is now nothing but a vast expanse of blackened stumps stretching away for miles in all directions.

This is one of the initial efforts of the Government towards reforestation and it is understood that this plan of planning for the future of the lumber industry of the country will be continued along a greater scale.

HOTELS OF GENEVA ARE PROFITEERS

By NEWTON C. PARKE,
(By International News Service)

PARIS, July 6.—What Senator Lodge thinks about the League of Nations is mild, very mild, indeed, when contrasted with the opinions of Swiss hotel keepers at Geneva, the League's home town. They'd like to have the League and all its officials thrown into the waters of Lake Leman.

A couple of years ago, when many cities were angling for the League headquarters, the Swiss hotelliers sent a strong lobby into Paris to work among the peace conference delegates. They shouted the glories of Switzerland in general and of Geneva, with Mont Blanc in the distance, in particular. And they were tickled to death at the prospects of grabbing large rolls of Swiss francs from visitors from all over the world when they learned that Geneva had landed the League.

the H. C. L. in the lake town. Clothing cost so much, said the commission, that the League ought to pay employes' expenses to other countries, where they could buy at more reasonable terms. Geneva was branded as the most expensive town in Europe, and the commission wound up by inquiring if it wouldn't be a good thing to move away to France, Italy, or even Austria.

The Geneva Hotel Keepers' Association is preparing another counterblast to the accusation of the experts. They have already sent a delegation around to League Headquarters in the Hotel National only to find that the experts have left town.

"I'd like to see Mr. Wadleigh."

"He's listening over the telephone," said the discreet secretary.

"Listening?"

"Draw your own inference, sir. I won't say in so many words that Mrs. Wadleigh, who is at the other end of the wire, is doing all the talking."
